Western Michigan University is making its place in the world through dynamic academic planning, vigorous athletic programs, and construction of facilities.

Among the fastest-growing institutions of higher education in the country, Western strives to meet the increased student enrollment with proportional physical development.

Students Crowded into the Fieldhouse

"The wind of change is blowing all over our world today; sweeping away the order, bringing in new order. The Negro is shedding the old order of segregation; the new order of freedom and justice of human dignity are coming into being."

They Spoke on a Pressing Issue of the Society in This World, Into Which We Are Soon to Take a Place.

"The Civil Rights Act of 1963 . . . will destroy every check on federal control set up in the constitution . . . You can see that the real issue at stake in America today is the centralization of power in Washington and not the race issue . . . Democracy is not a thing of Washington, it is a thing of the crossroads."

—Governor Ross Barnett

Western's programs span other continents. Students have first hand experiences with foreign customs.

Members of the Asian Studies Seminar visited affiliated Keio University in Japan before going to India.

The members of the Social Studies Seminar studied at Oxford University, Oxford, England.

They witness the traditions and historical sights which have enriched our culture.

Western welcomes foreign students to the University.

They graciously share their cultures, customs and ideas.

And we, in turn, try to share ours with them.

Our foreign friends stimulate our interests.

We look for ways to become better acquainted with other cultures.

Our ideas and future goals significantly reflect our association with Western and the World.

In co-operation with the International Teacher Development Program, Western welcomed foreign teachers for a three month seminar program.

Dr. James W. Miller
President of Western Michigan University

"As we grow larger, all of us must be acutely aware of the need to maintain and improve the quality of our instruction . . . the conditions of modern life are such that education, whether it be offered on or off our campus, becomes a requisite for survival."

—Dr. Miller

Dr. John J. Puis

As Administrative Assistant to the President, Dr. John J. Puis is responsible for studying various aspects of the University.

THE VICE-PRESIDENTS

"To learn the thrill of intellectual discovery; to appreciate the beauty in mathematics, in a poem or a painting; to gain a better understanding of himself and this complex world into which he has been born; to prepare himself professionally to be of service to himself and to his fellowmen; and possibly even to acquire some wisdom—these are among the opportunities offered students in their years at Western. Whether these opportunities are seized or passed by for useless trivia each student will determine for himself and in so doing determine the quality of his life."

—Dr. Seibert

Dr. Russell H. Seibert
Vice-President of Academic Affairs

Dr. L. Dale Faunce
Vice-President for Student Affairs
Chairman, Planning and Development Committee

"The dignity of the individual, the feeling of belonging, the recognition of rights and responsibilities are most important in the university community if true intellectual opportunities are to be grasped and fulfilled by students. This, then, becomes the true objective of the Student Personnel Services, as indicated by the year long Self Study just completed. The strength and reputation of any university depends upon the caliber of its faculty and students. The physical facilities are important only to serve the purposes of the academic program. Western has steadily forged ahead in its physical growth and will continue to do so in an orderly manner."

—Dr. Faunce

BAND DAY

WMU hosted 33 high school bands, representing some 1700 musicians, for the annual Band Day program in Waldo Stadium during the Miami University-WMU football game. Beginning at noon, the visiting bands offered a pre-game show including a parade around the stadium track. The massed bands presented a program of special numbers at half-time; after the game, they concluded their program with a final concert. Bands participating were from as far away as Gary, Indiana, and Ludington, Michigan.

The typical weather forecast for the fall of 1963 was warm and sunny. It was the type of weather when whatever possible was done out of doors.

THOSE BEAUTIFUL FALL DAYS!

Suitcases and stuffed animals await the assigning of a room.

To start a new semester at WMU is to begin again the same classes, traditional activities, and routine of many years. But by no means is it a boring routine. Mingled with this tradition and routine are newness and excitement. New students have arrived on campus—a new class of freshmen, sophomores who once were freshmen, juniors who once were sophomores, and seniors who have experienced all of these stages. With the new status comes a new set of classes and activities, and to freshmen, a new life.

Returning in the fall means the renewing of old friendships and the beginning of new ones. It means getting settled into the dorms and getting resettled into the Union. The homework will begin, too, but of immediate importance during the first week is to get into the swing of all the activity and excitement which will enhance the school year.

START ALL OVER AGAIN!

First thing on the agenda—even before unpacking—is to head for the Union!

"Hi—I'm your new roommate."

The AWS-MU Frosh Carnival, held Friday, September 20, was the first major event of the year.

You start with a small group seated around a table...

...but as old friends arrive, the group quickly grows.

HOMECOMING 1963

The theme of the 1963 Homecoming was the "Fabulous Fifty States," with floats, decorations, and activities centering around one of the states. The week began with the Queen's Coronation on Monday evening, October 14. Full schedule activities began on the 18th.

Hoekje's "Cotton Queen" was awarded first place honors for dorm displays.

Homecoming spirit mounts

The game, which climaxed the spirit of the week, ended in victory for the Broncos over Kent State.

EXCITEMENT WAS THE KEYNOTE!

Snake dancers coiled their way around the campus Friday evening.

Hoe-downers at the Union.

Homecoming activities got into full swing Friday, October 18, as classes were dismissed at 2 p.m. Students were dressed in weird apparel for the day. The Jazz Concert started at 2:30. That evening there was a Snake Dance, but the bonfire was canceled due to dry weather, though, ironically, it rained on Saturday. A Hoe Down Dance finished the first big day.

On Saturday the parade and the football game were somewhat wet activities, but spirits were not dampened. The victorious game made the week end complete with Western over Kent State 26-12. The Homecoming Dances featured the orchestras of Ralph Flanagan and Woody Herman.

Students poured into the Field House for the Jazz Concert.

TKE's "Land of Hiawatha" was a winner in the float contest.

The Broncos' most ardent fan entertained the crowd at the game.

TWIRP WEEK

In spite of the advanced status of women today, they have not yet obtained the "privilege" of taking the initiative in a dating situation. AWS provides this opportunity during the annual Twirp Week when women are allowed to ask for a date, decide where to go, open doors and perform other gentlemanly duties, and foot the bill. Needless to say, the men on campus enjoy being relieved of these duties for one week and take full advantage of their deprivation.

One campus couple goes all out for twirp and they turn about the campus tradition of co-edding.

During the week it was considered proper for female to choose her date and do the asking herself instead of going through the bother of scheming to get HIM to ask her.

Bulletin boards were decorated in all the University Buildings.

Those who attended the AWS Christmas Chocolate were entertained by choral groups and dancers.

Putting up the traditional Yule Rope in the Union is a greeting from several campus organizations.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Special care is taken in trimming the tree for the Student Center.

The Music Department presented the Christmas Assembly on Sunday afternoon, December 15.

Kalamazoo can be proud of its Bronson Park at Christmas time. This year the decorations included a display of brilliant and colorful lights.

A WHITE AND COLORFUL CHRISTMAS!

The annual Christmas Ball was held in the Ballroom on December 14.

The windows in the Union were cheerfully decorated.

It was a white Christmas season on campus; the snow was newfallen and sparkled beautifully. The many activities and gay decorations made the season also a colorful one. The Christmas Spirit was renewed as music groups performed, organizations entertained, and the Christmas message was given at Kanley Chapel. The holiday season was enjoyed by all and the weeks passed quickly as the holiday vacation approached.

After the stores had closed, some students paused on the Mall for a picture.

CELEBRATED VOCAL ENTERTAINMENT

Right: The New Christy Minstrels were the performers at the Homecoming Jazz Concert.

Below: The Norman Luboff Choir presented a spectacular performance, drawing a more than capacity crowd.

Above: Peter, Paul and Mary came to our campus as guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon to present a concert of their latest folk songs.

Upon request, interested coeds may obtain free instruction in the SC Billiards Room on Ladies' Day.

LESSONS AND FORUMS

The Bridge Lessons offered by the U.S.C.B. were very popular, as shown by the large number of students who attended each lesson.

Whether one's goal is to become an expert in the field, to learn well enough to "get by," or just to make friends and have fun, organizations of WMU provide lessons and "get togethers" that make the goal attainable. All students are invited to attend these activities, which are presented charge a nominal fee or are presented free of charge.

Left: Coffee Forums are offered by the U.S.C.B. and AWS bi-monthly in the Student Center.

Right: The Men's Dance Lessons were held weekly in the Walwood Ballroom.

Before the curtain rises on opening night, the major part in the production of the play has already taken place. Following the selection of the script, try-outs have been held and the cast has been chosen. The props have been gathered, the scenery built and the costumes sewn. The play has been publicized and ticket sales have been held.

THE THEATRE

Dr. Faber De Chaine conducts a rehearsal of THREE PENNY OPERA.

THE FINAL PERFORMANCE

By opening night, the players are ready with a polished performance. Rewards, in terms of success, are generally abundant. LADY PRECIOUS STREAM was performed in several of the Michigan high schools early in May. Also presented was an original by Joe Graham entitled THE REVOLT OF BUGSY BRAND.

Plans for construction of a new theatre are currently under way with a tentative sight at the Stadium Drive end of the Gateway Golf Course.

REGISTRATION

Registration involves a long, complicated process of going from place to place, and waiting in one line after another. But if one follows explicit directions given on tall, slim signs, the task should be less perplexing. The system has actually been improved from previous years, bringing average registration time down from two hours to one-half hour. Once the job is done, students can settle back, relax, and wait for another semester to begin.

The library fills up quickly at this time of the year—possibly even faster than the Union!

FINAL EXAMS

It isn't that the librarians don't trust students. They just put these mirrors up to give photographers interesting things to take pictures of!

SNOW (?) FESTIVITIES

Left: The 1964 Snow Queen and her court demonstrated the outlook for the week—no snow but it'll be fun away! They are (standing) Queen Nancy Herschelman, Sharon Kahal, Janet Wilson, (sitting) Pamela Best and Linda Kronlund.

Below: As proof (in case there are any doubts) that snow is not uncommon to Kalamazoo, this picture was taken approximately a month prior to Carnival time.

Snow was not to be seen during the scheduled week of the Snow Carnival. This fact was disappointing, not only to WMU Students but also to the interested people of Kalamazoo and the surrounding area who always enjoy a tour of the various sculptures. The sled race and sculpture contest events were cancelled. However, all other scheduled events took place in the traditional spirit of a WMU Snow Carnival.

The Highwaymen were featured at the Friday evening Jazz Concert.

On various Friday evenings throughout the year the MUB provides movie entertainment on campus in 150 Wood Hall.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Two RHA Blood Drives were held on campus this year. Students were urged to donate blood and in return were served juice and doughnuts to aid their recovery. The rewards of donation, however, extended far beyond the material realm.

During Spring a station for the distribution of the Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine was set up on campus. The station served both WMU students and the people of the surrounding communities. The immunization process was remarkably efficient and will be credited with the prevention of future outbreaks of polio.

Did you get yours?

Don't look so worried, Stu. You'll live—almost everyone does!

RELIGION, MORALITY AND KNOWLEDGE...

Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is said at St. Thomas More, the Roman Catholic Center on campus.

Hymns are sung at the Sunday evening Fellowship service at Kanley Chapel.

Kanley Memorial Chapel is the inter-faith, inter-denominational religious center at Western.

"Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary" is the inscription above the front doors of Kanley Memorial Chapel. Western, as a State University with a foreign student program, hosts a wide representation of the world religions.

Christianity, of course, is the dominant religion on campus. From the bell tower at Kanley on quiet evenings the chimes ring out hymns such as "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" or "Beautiful Savior" adding their peace to the student's life.

The blessing of the wine, "Kiddush," is performed at Jewish services at the Congregation of Moses on Stadium Drive.

ANYTHING GOES!

Anything goes in extra activities from Ugly Man Contests to Turkey Trots, Fraternity Rush to the Hockey club and just plain goofing off. It's all part of college!

Panhellenic Ball

There are three major formal balls held annually at WMU—Military, Panhellenic, and the Cotillion, which is held late in the Spring. They are evenings in which beauty and charm make their appearances in the forms of flowers, beautiful gowns and gay adornments. They are evenings to be remembered!

Co-eds and their little sisters discuss the weekend activities.

Since Dad must pay the bills, Mom must fuss and worry, and little sisters must generally "put up with" big sisters, the University affords each of them a special day of honor. Dad's Day activities (Nov. 2) included a football game in the afternoon followed by a program in the Student Center. Saturday, May 1, was the AWS Mother's Day Tea, held in the Student Center. Little Sisters' Weekend was April 17-19. Coeds could invite little sisters or guests to spend the weekend with them and enjoy the activities of campus life. Activities included the Water Sprites Show and the Little Sister Dance. What about brothers? Well, they're just nuisances anyway!

The final judging of the 1964 Miss WMU Pageant was under way as the BROWN AND GOLD went to press. Last year's pageant honored Miss Margaret Meier as the first Miss WMU. This pageant is an official Miss America preliminary and the winner goes on to represent Western in State competition in Muskegon this summer.

FESTIVAL OF ARTS

Western's twelfth annual Festival of Arts included a series of lectures, conferences, art displays and concerts in the Renaissance and Contemporary Arts. All art forms of these periods were represented during the four-week Festival. A Shakespearian play, TWELFTH NIGHT or WHAT YOU WILL, was presented by the Little Theatre as part of the Renaissance program.

A TRIBUTE TO A GREAT MAN

It was a day none of us can ever forget. It was a rainy Friday, Nov. 22, a day before a weekend filled with activities; and then at 2 p.m. we heard the news that President John F. Kennedy had been shot.

Shortly after that announcement the campus sounded with the news of the President's death.

Within minutes the entire campus knew of the assassination and felt its impact. Everyone's first reaction was of disbelief. This just wasn't the sort of thing that happened in the United States of America.

As we realized the truth of the announcement a silence and feeling of loss seemed to settle over the WMU population. Many of us felt a sense of helplessness; we wanted to do something and yet there was nothing we could do.

All social activities for the weekend were canceled; and many students went to churches to pray.

It was a time when everyone wanted to be near a radio or television set to hear the latest news. In our minds we hoped to hear that there had been some mistake, that President Kennedy was still alive.

Political views had no meaning; students' thoughts were centered around the fact that our President was dead. He was seen only as a great man; a man with a wife and two small children.

Even today it is hard for us to realize what has happened. However, the memory of Friday, Nov. 22, 1963, will never be erased from our minds because it is a tragedy which affects the entire world as well as the individual.

The words of his inaugural address have added meaning and impact for us today because they symbolize the man, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

COMMENCEMENT

With the Commencement ceremony, the graduating class of Western Michigan University embarks on a new phase of life, the pursuit of a career. At present, Western holds three Commencement ceremonies a year: August, January and June. Pictured below is the January 1964, Commencement ceremony.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Closer Communication Contact

Providing for its members a learning experience in self-government and leadership, the Student Council's foremost goal is to act as an intermediary between the student body and the administration in matters pertaining to the general welfare of the university. Since communication being necessarily implied here, President J. D. Gernant, through his campaign and election to office, has sought to emphasize this factor. His slogan, Closer Communication Contact, has been a guiding force for the Council this past year.

The Student Council's responsibilities and endeavors are many. It has participated in advancing university facilities to the students by sponsoring the lecture-assembly series and the Miss WMU Pageant. The council has also actively engaged in university conferences, delegates being sent to the first annual meeting of the Council on Human Rights held in Washington, D.C., and to the University of Michigan for a conference on higher education in Michigan. Through the Council, WMU is represented in the Michigan Association of Student Governments, a recently established body designated to act ultimately as a coordinator of all state colleges and universities. Similarly, Western is affiliated with the Collegiate Council of the United Nations.

Regarding the organization of the Student Council, it consists basically of committees and their chairmen; from the Elections Committee, which assumes responsibility for campus elections to the Information Committee to the Building and Grounds Committee to the recently formed Programs Committee. All committees are vital to the efficiency of the Council in its service to the University.

A series of lecture-symposiums entitled "The Conscience of America" sponsored by the Student Council, featured Martin Luther King, speaking on "Social Injustice."

"An Evening with Hans Conried" was the assembly sponsored by the Student Council during the month of October.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

All Inclusive

Associated Women Students is comprised of all registered undergraduate women at Western. The philosophy of A.W.S. is to stimulate the educational development of its members.

The organization of A.W.S. is divided into three boards—Judicial, Standards, and Activities. Through these boards A.W.S. encourages scholastic achievement, upholds high social standards, and promotes leadership opportunities.

A.W.S. offers a varied program to meet the needs of all campus women. Some of the activities sponsored by A.W.S. are the Dean's Conference, the Freshmen Get-Together, Dad's Day, Twirp Week, the Christmas Chocolate, Mom's Weekend, Women's Week, and the Spring Breakfast.

This year for Women's Week the Activities Board brought Miss Pauline Frederick, a United Nations Correspondent, to campus.

Throughout the year Men's Union Board is kept busy planning for projects and sponsoring many social events on campus. Two guest speakers are brought to Western each year by the organization. These speakers are always very popular with the students as are the movies and open houses which the board sponsors. The Snow Carnival, which takes place early in the spring semester, never fails to arouse enthusiasm all over the campus.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

Makes Policies

Al Hendrickson presents a petition for a WIDR Week to the Student Activities Committee.

The Student Activities Committee, the top policy making body, is always busily engaged in making important decisions. It is empowered with the right of review of all activities of the student body, operating within the limits set by the President of the University. The Committee also acts as the sponsor of Student Council and governs the organization and conduct of all student organizations on campus. Members of the S.A.C. represent the Student Council, Residence Halls Association, Associated Women's Students, Men's Union Board, Panhellenic Council, Inter-Fraternity Council and the faculty.

Assistant Dean of Women, Betty Householder, spends many long hours determining the Social Calendar for the coming semester. She presents the completed calendar to the S.A.C. for their approval.

Dean Marie Stevens discusses the function of the Student Activities Committee with members of a Task Force Committee, during the year long Self Study of Student Personnel Services.

Bridge lessons sponsored by USCB are always enjoyed by students anxious to learn the game of skill and concentration.

New Seal

Dr. Paul Maier was a guest speaker at one of the coffee forums put on by USCB.

In the midst of a 2,000,000 dollar addition to the Student Center much activity still goes on. The USCB sponsors six Coffee Forums a semester. At this time students enjoy such varied entertainment from a jazz group to a lecture on the book of the semester while enjoying a cup of coffee. A new feature of the Coffee Forums is the Bronco Buzz. At this time faculty members are guests at the coffee forums and students are able to meet them.

In the area of art and culture the USCB sponsored trips to Chicago. This gives students an opportunity to attend the museums and theatre. There are frequent art displays in the Student Center.

The USCB annually sponsors bridge lessons and social dance lessons for both men and women. Ladies Day in the Billiards room is another event sponsored by the USCB. At this time all WMU coeds can play pool free of charge.

This year the University Student Center Board sponsored the Annual Christmas Ball. The dance featured Bobby Christman and his orchestra and was held in the Student Center ballroom.

MORTAR BOARD

Recognizes Leadership

MEMBERS—Sally Misner, Elaine Vandebout, Karen Kaiser, Diane Helber.

It is with great pride that Western recognizes our Mortar Board chapter, as Mortar Board is the only national honors society of senior college women in the United States. Arista was Western's former local women's honorary.

The purposes of Mortar Board are to promote college loyalty, to advance the spirit of service and fellowship among university women, to promote and maintain a high standard of scholarship and to recognize and encourage leadership, and to stimulate and develop a finer type of college woman. New members are selected on the basis of service, scholarship and leadership, demonstrated in campus activities.

The traditions of Arista have been continued through the sponsorship of Mortar Board. These include the alumni reception during homecoming, the January Sophomore Honor Chocolate, the honoring of outstanding senior women on Rose Day in May, and the "tapping" of new members at the Spring Breakfast.

Distinctive service in at least one of five major phases of campus life enables a young man to become a member of ODK: scholarship; athletics; student government, social and religious affairs; publications; speech, music, drama and the other arts. It is felt that the young men of Western proficient in one or more of these fields should be recognized, that their togetherness will help to mold a lasting memory of collegiate life, and their contacts with faculty members of ODK will provide a basis of mutual understanding and interest between students and faculty. Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa is both an honor and an obligation.

The Alphian Service Sorority is a group of young women whose primary objective is to form a chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority on Western's campus.

At the present time, the Alphians status is that of a service sorority. The Alphians have clothed needy children, given baskets to deserving families at Thanksgiving, and sponsored Christmas and Valentine parties for different organizations. The Alphians have also served as ushers for many campus activities.

The biggest social event that the Alphians sponsor is their "Annual Hawaiian Luau" held in May.

UNIVERSITY CHOIR

A Capella

One of the smallest vocal groups in the department is the Madrigal Singers. The group usually uses baroque and classical selections for performances. Even though they are few in number, the singers are quite active in performing high schools throughout the state and recording with the modern dance students for organizations around the Kalamazoo area. They are a pleasant addition to the Christmas season in their caroling costumes.

The University Choir is an a capella choral ensemble which seeks to maintain high standards of excellence in performing representative choral literature, chosen from the various periods of music composition. Membership is by audition. The choir performs annually for civic and professional organizations and high school audiences, and is a frequent guest with the Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra in performances of oratorio literature.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Spring Concert

The Women's Glee Club of Western Michigan University, conducted by Miss Joyce Zastrow, has long enjoyed a place of distinction among the musical organizations of the campus. Open to all the women of the University, it is limited of necessity only by number and seeks to provide and develop artistic training in ensemble work.

One of the joys of being a member of the Men's Glee Club is the opportunity to perform for local high schools and civic programs and to participate in campus music activities. The young men of the group make many of their own arrangements of songs which follow a light nature of music. The Glee Club also records the voices of the men in the group. The Director is Mr. Jack Frey.

Henryk Szeryng

The W.M.U. Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Julius Stulberg, is one of the finest university orchestras in the country. The Orchestra presents two formal concerts a year plus the Honors concert and also participates in the Music Department's Christmas program. The Orchestra accepts a limited number of out of town engagements and school visitation programs. This year the Symphony Orchestra appeared in Muskegon, Battle Creek, Paw Paw, and South Haven. Under the sponsorship of the University Assembly Series, the University Symphony was honored to have as soloist famed violinist Henryk Szeryng, accompanied for the first time by an Orchestra composed of students.

Marching and Concert

Western's 124 piece Marching Band played for the home football games, the Homecoming Parade, and for the Western-Bowling Green football game held at Bowling Green, Ohio. The band was directed by Leonard V. Meretta and assisted by Russell Brown and Donald Bullock. During the basketball season the band was divided into two pep bands known as the "Brown" and the "Gold" to play for the home games. In addition, the Varsity Band directed by Donald Bullock alternated in playing for the basketball games. The concert band performed in the annual Christmas Concert and presented their winter concert in Read Field House with Donald Bullock, cornetist, as guest soloist. For their final activities, the band closed a busy season with a banquet held on Commencement Eve and performed for the Commencement Exercises.

Gyl Johnson, Georgia Sheldon, Jill Whitaker, and Jack Smith are Western's majorettes and drum major.

Football games wouldn't be complete without the WMU Band's half-time show.

CANTERBURY CLUB

An Opportunity

The Canterbury Club is the national association for Episcopal Church members on college campuses. Its purpose is to provide students and faculty alike with an opportunity, both as individuals and as members of the corporate body of Christ, the Church, to grow in the Christian experience as expressed through the faith and practices of the Episcopal Church.

The Club gives Episcopalians opportunities to participate in various ecumenical activities and a Sunday evening social program which provides time for Christian service. The Episcopal Church sponsors noted speakers for the entire academic community as well as providing the full time services of a chaplain for the usual priestly, pastoral, and teaching functions of the Church.

National Club

Kappa Phi is a national religious and social club for young women of Methodist preference. The club works to help its members achieve the qualities of a Christian life by strong friendship and close ties of sisterhood and by service to others. Kappa Phi is intended to encourage girls to be active in the church now and in the future. It is a part of Wesley Foundation. Much of the service of the club is carried out through the circles. There is a circle in every dorm as well as one for off-campus members. Its service has included help to senior citizens and assistance for the foreign students at WMU; some of whom have been warmed by winter coats, and others with English conversation. There are many social activities carried on by the organization. They are highlighted by Mother and Father's Weekend Banquets and the Kappa Phi-STE formal in March.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

The WMU women debaters were the winners of both the State Novice and Varsity Debate Tournaments as well as the MSU Varsity Tournament and placed second in Ohio State's Invitational Varsity Tournament. WMU debaters continued their successful record in top level debate competition, state regional, and national. They participated in eighteen debate tournaments and numerous public debates. The girls met and defeated teams from West Point, the U.S. Naval Academy, Dartmouth, Notre Dame, Northwestern, Wayne State, George Washington, and the Universities of Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan. Patricia Gowen led the squad in individual honors with Kathleen McDonald a close second. Ann Rifenberg, Julia Watson, and Iris Woodberry, also won individual awards.

MEN'S DEBATE

National Debates

The Men's Debate squad again had a successful year. Western has a long history of excellence in debate, resulting from the efforts of both the debators and their coach, Dr. Charles Helgesen. At Western the emphasis is placed on debate as an educational activity, providing the public speaking experience needed for citizenship and achievement in a career.

This year, the team attended a dozen tournaments held in Vermont, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Two of these were national meets; Notre Dame and the Tau Kappa Alpha-Delta Sigma Rho National Forensics Fraternity tournament. The season closed with a tour of the state of Wisconsin, where the WMU men participated in a series of live-audience debates.

CALLIOPE

Literary Magazine

Student contributions of art, poetry, prose of photographs are featured in the annual edition of Calliope, Western Michigan University's literary magazine. Ruth Jones, editor, and her staff select the materials from each area which will be used and lay-out the magazine. Following publication, Calliope is sold at various places around campus.

STAFF—Morien Williams, Pam Moy, John Anderson, Judy Haack, Lloyd Peterson, Dave Pebles, Sherri Perelli, Evan Ginsberg, Judy Peterson, Diane Brown, Jo Ann Kern, Vikke Casperson, Art Schulenberg, Eric Pott.

This year the campus was invaded by a new publication. The magazine was aptly named Tart. It was headed by Lloyd Peterson, Eric Pott, and Evan Ginsburg. Peterson graduated at mid-year and the leadership was left up to the daring duo of Rick and Ev. Tart came out twice this year and was well received by the entire student body. Started on loans from the Student Council and Men's Union the magazine was able to support itself after the first issue. The fact that the magazine was advised Messrs. Joe Freeman and Ed Galligan explained its acceptance by the faculty. With a little luck and student talent, Tart expects to be here a long time.

Strike up the band for TART.

Brown and Gold

The 1964 Brown and Gold serves as a pictorial record of the 1963-64 school year. In order to record this school year, work began in the Spring of 1963 when the Editor and Business Manager were chosen. They, in turn, selected the printer, cover company and staff members.

The photography staff began work early in the Fall, by covering all campus events. The members of the staff decided what would go on their pages, assigned the pictures, wrote the copy, and designed the pages.

Eventually, the Brown and Gold went to press and by June, this product of combined energy, time and hard work was ready for Western's students. The staff got the first glimpse of the book at their annual banquet held at Gull Harbor Inn.

Fall Business Manager, David Morse, hands the books over to the present Business Manager, Richard Feeley.

Sharon Renusch, Organization editor, and Karen Miers, copy writer, were responsible for one quarter of the book.

Literary Editor, Nola Stambaugh, was in charge of everything except pictures and white space.

Carolyn Meeth, Features Editor, was the gal in the know about campus events.

Lynne Schreuder ably edited the Graduate Section.

Joyce Preston and Dan Yakes made Residence Halls their business.

HERALD Editor Jim Stommen establishes guidelines for the HERALD staff to follow, comments editorially in his Viewpoint column, and in general decides style and policy for the HERALD.

One of the most noticeable, yet the most unnoticed, campus attractions is the Western Herald. Appearing on Wednesday and Fridays, the Herald is seen everywhere on campus on these mornings. The 8,000-plus copies which are distributed on campus are generally gone within hours, with copies invariably being scanned during Wednesday and Friday classes.

The Herald boasts of a staff of around forty persons, but only a few are involved in the actual make-up of the paper. Wednesday's paper, which has traditionally been a four-page issue, has been made into an eight page issue every other week during the Spring semester and Friday's Herald is made up of an eight page issue.

Several special issues were put out by the Herald staff this year including a 24-page Back-to-School issue, a 16-page Homecoming issue, a four-page issue on the Kennedy Assassination, and a four-page special devoted to Manny Newsome on the Monday night of March 2, Manny's last game for Western.

The Editor of the Herald in the Fall semester was Judy Bell. She was succeeded in the Spring semester by Jim Stommen, who had been Managing Editor during the Fall semester.

The Editor sets policies, coordinates staff activities and assignments, and in general oversees the paper's operations. The duties of the Managing Editor are many and varied, including the make-up of each page of every issue, the supervision of news and photography assignments.

Mr. Joe Freeman, Assistant Director of News and Information for the University, is the advisor to the Herald, in which capacity he supplies the Herald with all university news releases, serves as a liaison between the paper and the "official" University, and serves as a "steady influence" on the excitable Herald staff.

The business and advertising activities of the Herald are handled by the business staff, headed by Business Manager Louis Pach. Tim Draves handled the advertising during the Fall semester, and Dick Manske, Nory Layton and Linda Mallette administered to advertising in the Spring semester. Revenue for the Herald comes in a 60-40% division between advertising and student fees, with free distribution of the paper to all students on campus.

Louis Pach has served as Herald business manager for three semesters, previously filling the advertising manager position.

Page make-up is managing editor Bert Leaf's forte. Bert handled staff assignments in addition to these duties.

News Editor Ron Krueger assembled all the campus news and news releases for the Herald.

George Jepson, Herald Sports Editor, kept track of the extensive WMU athletic program.

Keeping files in order, proofreading type, sorting rough copy—all of these duties fell to the copy editor, Sandy Kaiser.

The "money man" of the Herald was business manager Louis Pach. Here he discusses an advertising schedule with his secretary, Sandy Miller.

Dick Manske handled the advertising matters for the Herald as advertising manager.

As circulation manager, Glenn Schultz was responsible for mailing several hundred copies of each issue.

Harmon Henkin created the controversial "Frog Croakings" column, under the pen name of A. Fardel.

Associate Advertising Managers Linda Mallette and Nory Layton handled the Herald's local advertising accounts.

WIDR

750 On Your Dial

WIDR, Western's inter-dorm radio station, is owned by the Residence Halls Association. The station is operated in a manner similar to that of a commercial station by providing the student body with the latest news, sports, music, and other campus activities. WIDR gives its announcers practical experience in the field of radio broadcasting. WIDR personalities appear at dances and furnish the latest records for Western and High schools around the area.

RESIDENCE HALLS ASSOCIATION

Interesting Activities

The Welcome Back to School Dance sponsored by the RHA set the stage for the many other all-campus activities held this year. Both the Fall and Spring Blood Drives were a resounding success and of great help to the local Red Cross Chapter. In the Spring of 1963 the annual Jazz Concert featured the very popular Chad Mitchell Trio. The RHA discussed in their bi-monthly meetings the many problems of the residence halls on campus. Working closely with their sponsors, the dorm leaders strove continually to support activities which gave both functional and social rewards.

EICHER AND LE FEVRE HALLS

Opened in February

Two more Residence Halls in North Valley were opened in February. Eicher and LeFevre Halls were named in honor of deceased faculty members. Miss Edith Eicher was a member of Western's English Department, while Miss Alice Louise LeFevre was the Director of the School of Librarianship.

The 250 women in each new dorm elected their first House Councils and began the semester with successful activities.

ACKLEY HALL

NVA Leader

As a new dormitory situated out in the "wilds" of North Valley, Ackley Hall was faced with such problems as: developing dorm spirit, bringing the dormitory into closer contact with the main campus, and, as the oldest dorm in the new complex, initiating a cooperative spirit among the other dorms in the complex. In their successful attempt to solve these problems, Ackley held a series of movies and mixers, developed a well-rounded intramural sports program, and initiated the North Valley Association.

BIGELOW HALL

Provides Activities

Bigelow Hall provided a number of activities and functions, not only for the residents of the dormitory, but for the University as well. Bigelow's "floating card game" took a second prize in the Homecoming Parade. The dormitory staged a successful exchange dinner with Siedschlag Hall. Dorm members loyally toted the Victory Bell back and forth to football games, although they seldom had an opportunity to ring it. Finally, the dormitory offered smokers, mixers, and open houses which were well attended.

"Las Vegas, Nevada" was the theme of Bigelow's Homecoming Parade entry.

Eventful Year

The women of Britton Hall began the year by presenting a mixer along with the women of Hadley Hall. Along came Homecoming and a queen from Britton, Mary Ann Dietrich. Christmas brought with it many new events including a Faculty Tea. The night of the Christmas Party, every suite of girls contributed a gift for the Catholic Children's Welfare League. Other activities included working on Homecoming Display, Snow Carnival, Dad's Day and Senior Recognition Dinner.

DAVIS HALL

House Display Winner

As each new girl arrived at Davis Hall, she entered a world filled with new faces, spirit, and enthusiasm. In a very short period of time she felt right at home. There were many activities which helped the girls become close friends. The year began with Homecoming activities, which included first place in the Women's Residence Halls house displays, and ended in June with the senior Recognition Dinner. Other activities included dorm mixers, a Christmas Party, Mom's Weekend, Dad's Day and Little Sister's Weekend.

DRAPER HALL

Active Women

Draper strives to include as many girls as possible in all of its activities. Many different kinds of dinners are held — Birthday and Senior Recognition Dinners as well as those honoring faculty guests. Last year Draper had three Queen's Dinners — Homecoming, Snow Carnival and Kappa. The women of Draper also won the Blood Drive trophy. This year the women of Draper went caroling and gave a party for orphans. Some of their other activities included a Homecoming Display, third place in Women's Residence Hall Homecoming Floats, dorm mixers, Mom's Weekend and Dad's Day.

Draper's float had a lobster from "Maine," complete with fisherwoman.

ELLSWORTH HALL

Christmas Party

Doing things in a big way! That is the way the men of Ellsworth Hall work. This year the men won a third place award in the residence halls division for their Homecoming Display. Ellsworth presents an annual co-ed Christmas party to which all Western women are invited. Other events of the year include an annual Smoker, work on the Snow Carnival and Exchange Dinners with the women's dorms.

ERNEST BURNHAM HALL

First Place Float

"Ernie Burnie" is characterized by all-out participation among its residents in such activities as the Freshman Carnival, the Homecoming Float which this year took first place, Snow Carnival events and snow sculpture. Traditionally, each fall the women of "Ernie" present Dogpatch, their annual mixer. Other activities include Birthday, Graduation and Bride's Dinners. Especially unique to "Ernie" is their annual Christmas Party for area underprivileged children. They also collect food baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving and have recently adopted a foster child.

FRENCH HALL

Homecoming Entries

French Hall has been a place of much activity this year. The women of French had their annual Christmas Party to which underprivileged children were invited. They also had a first snowfall party which proved to be a great success. Other activities within the dorm included P.J. parties, mixers, and inter-dorm tournaments. On the first Sunday of every month the girls entertained parents and guests in their lounge with their traditional afterdinner coffee. The addition of a stereo to the lounge has added warmth and a friendly atmosphere to the many activities of the dorm.

It was down the Falls for Kent State in the French Hall house display.

HADLEY HALL

Keep Active!

Keep active! That is the motto of the women of Hadley Hall. They began the year with a mixer and ended it with their Senior Recognition Dinner. After a successful fall mixer, they placed second among the women's residence halls at the Freshman Carnival. November brought an open house for "Fathers Only" and first place in WRA bowling. With December came elaborate Christmas decorations, a Faculty Christmas Tea and a caroling party with Ackley and Schilling.

HENRY HALL

New Furniture

The efforts of Henry Hall were centered around improving the dormitory. Among the most notable improvements were a new color television set and new furniture.

In Intramural sports, the dormitory fielded high caliber teams in nearly every sport, making them a strong contender for the dormitory league grand trophy.

The highlight of a busy schedule of mixers, smokers and cokers, was a Christmas party which helped brighten up the lives of some needy orphans.

HOEKJE HALL

Grand Trophy Winner

The truth has finally been released. During the fall semester Hoekje Hall was visited by a contagious disease known as Trophyitis. This malady resulted in trophies for second place booth at the Freshman Carnival, second place house display, first place Homecoming float and the grand trophy for Homecoming. In spite of this pestilence Hoekje was able to schedule a full calendar of activities. Included were mixers, smokers, parties, faculty-student seminars, exchange dinners with Smith and Ernest Burnham Halls, and monthly visitations to the State Hospital in conjunction with Smith Burnham.

MOORE HALL

Active Scholastically

Between rounds in the "battle for the mailbox," Moore Hall was responsible for a number of successful and often unique activities. In this category would be included Moore's award winning Homecoming Float, and the dorm's custom of providing Christmas baskets for the underprivileged. The residents of Moore demonstrated their interest in scholarly matters by inviting faculty members to dinner and by staging an annual dinner for those residents who achieved a 3.2 average during the Fall semester.

The women of Moore were out to "fry" Kent State at the Homecoming parade.

SHILLING HALL

Already Active

Shilling Hall, which was dedicated last Fall to D. Carl Shilling, former member of Western's Political Science Department, made a name for itself, when it led the campaign for bus service to North Valley. The highlight of its social activities was a Christmas Party which it co-sponsored with the other members of the North Valley complex. The dormitory's booth at the Snow Carnival was certainly one of the most popular, rivaling the top fraternity entries. The men of Shilling found another reason to be proud when their candidate was chosen as a finalist in the Miss WMU beauty pageant.

Andrew Caraker, the first President of Shilling Hall, spoke in behalf of the residents at the dedication ceremonies.

SIEDSCHLAG HALL

Heart of Campus

Located in the "heart" of the campus, Siedschlag has long been noted for the spirit of its residents. This year they won the second place trophy for their Homecoming display. Some of their activities included a mixer, a car wash, a dorm choir, a dorm newspaper and the sponsorship of a Greek foster child. Siedschlag has many special dinners, including a Birthday Dinner each month as well as a Senior Recognition Dinner and Brides' Dinner in June. This year their newest dinner was a successful Halloween Exchange Dinner with the men of Bigelow.

SMITH BURNHAM HALL

New Traditions

Two new traditions were initiated in Smith Burnham this year. A "Secret Bunny Week" was planned just prior to Easter vacation to renew the spirit of giving. Also a tea was given for the Freshmen and New Students by their Standards Board to welcome the new students to their family. This year they placed first in their Freshman Carnival booth and third in their Homecoming Display. Following the old traditions, they had their annual party for underprivileged children, Senior Recognition Dinner, Halloween Party and Thanksgiving and Christmas festivities, and Little Siter's Week-end.

Spindler Hall enjoys the unique position of being the only women's dorm on the East Campus. It is also the smallest residence hall on campus, with fewer than 200 residents. Both the size and location of the dorm combine to give it a friendly, homelike atmosphere.

The women of Spindler began the social activities of the year with a successful Fall Mixer. The men of Vandercook and Walwood sponsored an impromptu snowball fight against Spindler — the outcome of which is still undetermined. In cooperation with Walwood Hall, Spindler presented a Halloween Party and a Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

Davy Crockett came from "Tennessee" to highlight Spindler's Homecoming float.

VANDERCOOK HALL

Top House Display

For a small dorm on campus, Vandercook Hall started the year off in a big way with a first prize winning booth at the Freshman Carnival. The dorm continued its winning ways by constructing the first place House Display at Homecoming. In the field of athletics, Vandercook teams were always a force to be contended with. Despite all of these accomplishments, probably the most remembered activity for the residents of "Hungry Hall" was the annual banquet held at Inman's.

WALWOOD HALL

Mighty Active

Walwood Hall, the "small but mighty" dorm on campus, had a mighty active year. Nearly every weekend found something interesting going on at Walwood Hall, in the form of dances, movies, and parties. At Christmas time the dorm sponsored a party for underprivileged children. In the Spring the dorm held a campus wide bridge tournament. And as a crowning touch for a highly successful year, Walwood honored its outstanding senior residents at its annual award dinner.

ZIMMERMAN HALL

Air of Friendliness

The air of friendliness is constant throughout the halls of Zimmerman. Within this modern dorm are a group of girls who have contributed much to their dorm and also to Western's campus. This year Zimmerman's girls proved to be very proficient swimmers. Under the leadership of Karen Hagen, their team took the trophy for two consecutive semesters. They also took the third place trophy for their Homecoming Display. The Executive Board, the House Council and every girl at Zimmerman strives to maintain this fine record.

Panhellenic Council is the sorority's counterpart to the fraternity's Inter-Fraternity Council. All sorority women are automatically members of Panhellenic, but the council is composed of the presidents and two representatives from each group, plus two faculty sponsors. Besides organizing Rush Week, the Council sponsors the Panhellenic Ball and a Senior Recognition Dinner in the Spring. The Council maintains University policies and goals for sorority life.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Active Participants

Alpha Chi's once again were active participants in all campus events. Among the most memorable activities were the Founder's Day Banquet, Dad's Day Dinner, Mother's Day Luncheon and the Panhellenic Banquet.

Their participation in campus functions resulted in a second place rating in the Homecoming float contest. But social life is only part of their activities. Each year the girls work at the Upjohn School for Handicapped Children as their part in the national project. High scholarship is also an aim of Alpha Chi as they compete for the scholarship award at the Senior Recognition Dinner.

Jeanette Wright and Tom Hansz were elected the 1963-64 Campus Couple.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Campus Couple Dance

Kappa Rho Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, with the Jacqueminot Rose as its flower, has been on campus since 1951. Since then the women have participated in various campus and Greek activities. Each fall A O Pi sponsors the Campus Couple Dance. Its proceeds go to their national philanthropic project, the Frontier Nursing Service. In the spring they present the Alpha Omicron Pi Scholarship trophy to the sorority with the highest scholastic average for the year.

Other traditional activities include the Homecoming Alumnae Coffee, Dad's Day luncheon, Greek Week contests, and entries in several carnivals. In March they sponsor the Rose Ball.

ALPHA PHI

Prepares Breakfast

In December 1962, Delta Theta Colony became one of Alpha Phi's national chapters. "Little Hearts Need Big Hearts" is the appealing reminder to Alpha Phi's that through their national philanthropy, cardiac aid, they have the privilege of helping child victims of heart diseases.

Social activities have been an integral part of the Alpha Phi's campus life, with the women participating in Snow Carnival, Greek Week, and Sorority Sing. Highlights of their chapter activities were the banquet before the Panhellenic Ball, the luncheons for their mothers and fathers, and their Spring house party.

The Alpha Phi's presented "Arizona" in the Homecoming Parade.

The first dance of the year was successful.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

First Fall Mixer

The loyal and sincere interests that are shared by the women of Alpha Sigma Alpha have made them an active and successful organization on campus. The Alpha Sigs participated in all major campus events with the first fall mixer sponsored by the women. Throughout the year, they were busy with raising funds to aid the mentally retarded children in Kalamazoo. Thus, the women were able to fulfill their four-fold aim of developing girls to the utmost physically, spiritually, socially, and intellectually.

CHI OMEGA SORORITY

High Scholarship

The members of Chi Omega have again taken a fun-filled, active part in all campus activities. As a result of their participation in these activities, they received first place for their Homecoming Float and second place for their Freshman Carnival Booth. The girls also worked very hard on the annual Greek Week Philanthropic project.

In addition to their work on campus, the sisters enjoy annually sponsoring the Chi O Carousel, an Apple Polishing Party for the instructors. Social life, however, is only a part of Chi O's activities. High scholarship is a primary aim of every sister, and they were rewarded for their high achievement by receiving first place among sororities in the spring semester of 1963.

SIGMA KAPPA

Homecoming Place

Sigma Kappa, the nation's fifth oldest sorority, is dedicated to the ideals of high scholarship and activities as a part of college life. The SK's captured third place in the Homecoming Float Parade this year. They also participated in the Snow Carnival, Sorority Sing, and Greek Week. Each year they look forward to the Father's Day Banquet, Mother's Day Luncheon, and Little Sister's Brunch. Several Sigma Kappa members hold various campus offices. Their national philanthropic projects are the Maine Sea Coast Mission, the American Farm School in Salonica, Greece, and Gerontology, which involves working with the aged.

DELTA SIGMA THETA

High Quality Leadership

Delta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta was established on Western's campus in 1953. The major functions of the Deltas are service, scholarship, and high quality leadership. The women participated in the Delta Founders' Day Program, Panhellenic activities, Mother's Day Breakfast, and Sorority Sing. The Deltas captured first place in this year's Freshman Carnival Booths. Each year, as a service project, the girls send Christmas cards to the patients at the State Hospital.

Delta Sig pledges receive congratulations at the Pan-Hellenic Ball.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Co-ordinating Body

Western Michigan University's Inter-Fraternity Council is the governing, regulating, and co-ordinating body of Western's social fraternities. The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of fifty-three men, two men representing each of Western's sixteen fraternities and the balance consisting of officers, sponsors, and committee chairmen.

IFC establishes policies and co-ordinates activities in different areas from social to scholarship, from rush to athletics. The Inter-Fraternity Council also co-operates with Panhellenic Council in sponsoring the annual Greek Week. IFC meets formally every two weeks, and the presidents of Western's fraternities meet in the intervening weeks.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Leadership

The brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon have had a successful year encompassing a wide range of activities and service to both the campus and the community. The Phi Sig's Greek Week victories and first place homecoming display, "Hawaii," were only the high points of an active schedule that the brothers maintained. Phi Sigma Epsilon has also shown strong participation in all of the intermural sports as well as contributing players to several of Western's varsity teams. Phi Sig's are likewise proud of those brothers who have held several of the most prominent positions of campus leadership, and the concerted participation of all members in a variety of service projects. Leadership, which is the byword of Phi Sigma Epsilon has most certainly been evinced by the fraternity this year in all spheres of university life.

Phi Sigma Epsilon's Variety Night skit won First prize.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

On the Hill

With the principles of stimulating scholarship, promoting brotherhood, and developing character, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa work to make college a more meaningful experience. A comparatively young fraternity on Western's campus, it takes pride in its active part in all phases of university and fraternity life. In addition to a full academic and social life, the members participated in the Fraternity Sing, Greek Week, Freshman and Snow Carnivals and various Interfraternity events such as football and softball. A strong showing in Greek Week activities, and its being a contender for the All-Sports Trophy shows the spirit of a closely knit group. The fraternity carries out community responsibility as evidenced in the support of the blood drives.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Western's Newest

The brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha returned to campus this fall as members of Western's newest national fraternity. Although being on campus only for a short time, the Pikes have grown considerably. Brotherhood, scholarship, and leadership have been the goals and ideals of the Pikes. The purchase of a fraternity house was a goal achieved this year. The Pike fire truck leads the way for many school functions and can be seen on campus throughout the year. A new fraternity and a growing one, always out to improve itself, is Pi Kappa Alpha.

Social activities of the Sig Delts include the sponsorship of a Christmas Party with Delta Zeta at the Children's Juvenile Home where they brought presents and decorated a tree. They held a Hootenanny featuring the Topsiders and the Holly Hop Christmas dance. 100 Man Chapter Sigma Phi Epsilon has again proven itself as a leading link in Western's Greek System. A balanced, all-out effort of this 100 man chapter has been the key to success. Sig Ep goals include excellence in scholarship, leadership in campus activities, participation in community projects, and supremacy in all intramural sports. The Sig Ep calendar is always filled with events such as the Freshman Carnival, where they captured first place among fraternities, and Homecoming where their house display won second place, and their Homecoming float third. Other traditional events included Dad's Day, Snow Carnival, Mom's Day, Fraternity Sing and Greek Week. Once again this year, the Sig Ep's have maintained their reputation.

Full Social Calender

The men of Sigma Tau Gamma emphasized their goals as scholarship, brotherhood, and community service. Besides taking part in all campus activities, much time was spent in close association among the brothers. In addition to the regular activities, the brothers found time for a full-closed social calendar which provided many enjoyable events for the "Taus" and their dates. In the spring, their "White Rose Ball" is widely known on the closed calendar.

Tau Kappa Epsilon is the largest national and social fraternity composed of 179 chapters. Chapter Delta Alpha was founded on Western's campus in 1952, and has since contributed greatly to the activities of the school. This year the TKE'S captured first place in the Homecoming Floats. The main goals of the TKE'S are to promote brotherhood and to be active with all fraternities. ZETA BETA TAU

New on Campus

The newest fraternity on campus, Beta Tau Colony of Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity, has continued working toward accomplishing many worth-while goals. Projects such as the Christmas party held for the Kalamazoo School of Retarded Children and achieving 100 percent attendance at the RHA blood drive are two prime examples. In addition to having their own active social calendar, they have participated in numerous WMU functions. Attainment of a high scholarship is still of paramount importance to them. Because of this, they have raised their grade point requirement above that of the I.F.C's.

Epsilon Xi, chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha was organized in 1959 and received its national charter in 1962. Since its beginning, it has assisted in making significant contributions to the university. It pursues this aim through a balanced program of academic, civic and social activities, with emphasis placed upon academic achievement, cooperation, and excellence.

THETA XI

In Brotherhood

By participating in a wide variety of activities, Theta Xi has continued to uphold its motto, "In brotherhood we trust." These events have included Homecoming, Greek Week, Snow Carnival, the Red Cross Drive, and many other social and civic events.

Scholastic achievement is very important to all the brothers, and they also rank among the leaders in intra-fraternity athletics. Theta Xi is backed by a strong and growing national fraternity as evidenced by the addition of twenty-one new chapters into the bonds in 1962.

In 1962 Western's Cross-Country squad were second place finishers in Mid-American competition for the first time in six autumns, and the three lettermen on that team graduated the following June.

Come 1963, highly successful Coach George Dales had four letterwinners, but only two whom he could count on. The responsibility of getting WMU back on top clearly fell to the squad's large group of Sophomores—and they came through quite nicely.

Western regained the MAC title from Ohio U. (at Bowling Green) by seeing seven runners, four of them sophomores, turn in clutch performances.

Junior Bruce Burston ran well all season and finished second at Bowling Green behind Miami's brilliant sophomore Andy Schramm. Burston was only disappointing in the NCAA meet with a 29th place place finish after a great 13th place in 1962, a feat that made him a cross-All-America.

Veteran Neil Browne was Dale's number two runner, but wasn't ever far ahead of sophomore Steve Smith. Sophomores held down the next three spots and really gave this team a kick. Ted Nelson, Jim Carter and John Flaminio developed rapidly as did Gary Myers, who held down the number seven position with a junior, Mike Gallagher, a Toledo product who has done consistently well in a pair of spiked shoes.

Dales is expectantly awaiting the varsity arrival of freshman Don Clark (see page 278) who has not been beaten by anybody since entering WMU.

With a laboring look, Western's Australian import Bruce Burston nears the end of his battle with the rest of the NCAA Cross-country field last November. Burston was 29th in the 1963 meet, but had won All-America honors with a 14th place finish in the 1962 encounter.

Bronco Grid Champaign Disappointing

"Rebuild" was the word for the 1963 football season. The Broncos led off the season against Wisconsin of the Big Ten, which had lost the Rose Bowl game of January 1, 1963. Coach Merle Schlosser looked for '63 to be a rebuilding season, and indeed it was, as injuries to key players and losses in several close games reaped a 2-7 record.

Quarterback was the big question mark at the beginning of the campaign, with Ken Barnhill, the reserve man in 1962, the most likely candidate to take the starting assignment.

However, Troy Allen, a junior college transfer student, stepped into the job in the season's third game and did a standout job the rest of the way. Barnhill did a fine job of relief throughout the season.

In the opening game the Broncos traveled to Madison, Wisconsin to take on the highly rated Wisconsin Badgers. After controlling play for most of the first period, Western was humiliated by a 41-0 count. Strangely enough, the defeat wasn't bad at all. Western had the Badgers in the hole most of the opening stanza, until Lou Holland skipped around right end and galloped 78-yards for the game turning score. Western's game, but outmanned, gridders went down to defeat before 48,574 fans.

The season's greatest disaster struck the next weekend as the Broncos traveled to Mount Pleasant expecting to defeat the Central Michigan Chippewas with ease. What an upset! The Chips were up and romped over Western 30-14.

Surrounded, Elword Miller seems to say, "All right, guys, I haven't got it!"

In the first home game of the season Bronco followers jammed Waldo Stadium to see Ernie Kellerman, Scott Tyler and Co. of the Miami Redskins. Fans got an unexpected surprise when Troy Allen started at quarterback, but he showed 'em, and then some, with his fancy footwork and ground-gaining ability. Al Wing, Western's most outstanding runner, suffered a knee injury against the Redskins after streaking 79-yards to score, causing him to drop out of school. The Broncos were much improved, but highly touted Miami pulled out a 27-19 win.

Defeat at Bowling Green in the next game was an especially tough pill to swallow, as the Broncos had a game-winning pass to Tom Patterson called back. Thus the Falcons squeaked by with a 16-7 victory.

Homecoming at Waldo Stadium the following Saturday brought two remarkable events. One, Western's first victory, by a 26-12 margin over Kent State and two, Troy Allen's thrilling 100-yard kickoff return.

The Broncos made it two in a row the next week, as they thumped Toledo's Rockets 18-7 in the Glass Bowl Stadium in Toledo, Ohio.

Marshall's Big Green invaded Waldo Stadium next and went away with a hard earned 20-7 win over a hungry band of Broncos who really wanted that third one in a row.

The next week Western gained yard after yard, but couldn't get over the goal line in the necessary amount, falling to the Ohio University Bobcats 26-13.

Louisville closed the 1963 WMU football book downing the Broncos 21-7 in Waldo Stadium. It was the end to a dismal 2-7 season.

Swimmers Won Second Straight Mid-American Crown; Extended Dual Meet Victory Skeen to 24

Before the 1962-63 season, a Western Michigan swimming team had never won a Mid-American swimming championship and the Broncos began competing in 1956 when the pool was completed.

Coach Ed Gabel's teams waited until 1961-62 to finish as high as second, but last year didn't waste any motion in winning the league tank crown with the third highest point total in league history.

That was predominately a sophomore-junior team and Gabel had 15 letterman back to continue riding roughshod over all opponents this season. And that's exactly what happened.

The Broncos offered an obvious indication of what was to come by running away with the MAC Relays in the year's first competition. Then came ten straight victories, most of them lopsided, which meant WMU had not lost a dual meet through two seasons and 24 appearances.

Although Gabel had seven conference champions ready for the league meet at Kent State, he expected a much tougher test than in the previous year's showdown. But almost everyone came through with peak performances and the Broncos took the crown again by practically the same margin.

Ten of the eighteen events went to Western and the Bron-

Dearborn sophomore Ron Pohlonski quits pool after winning another freestyle race in 1963-64. Pohlonski was Western's top freestyler and teamed with Bill Cutler, Beau Toll and Neal Bauer, gave the Broncos domination of freestyle events all season.

It's another victory for backstroker Joel Gaff, a senior who was almost unbeatable in three years of swimming. Gaff leaves WMU with a pair of conference records and two Western pool marks and his 2:20.3 in the Mid-American meet broke a three year old record by Miami's Olympic champion Bill Mullikin.

Backstroker Eric Evenson, a junior, was Mid-American 100 and 200 yard champion for two straight years.

Junior freestyler-butterflyer Nick Herrick was a key member of Coach Gabel's depth-laden crew.

Diver Tony Toporski earned plenty of points in three years as a Bronco team member.

cos broke every league record in the bargain.

Joel Gaff's 2:20.3 in the 200 yard breaststroke smashed the 2:21.4 mark set by Miami's Bill Mulliken, an Olympic Gold Medal winner in 1960. Gaff also set a new mark in the 100 yard breaststroke, 1:03, to better the old mark of 1:03.8.

Backstroke Eric Evenson broke two of his own records in the 100 and 200 yard races, from 2:09.7 to 2:07.7 in the former and from 59.0 to 57.9 in the latter race.

Bill Cutler's 1:50.1 in the 200 yard freestyle cracked the previous mark of 1:53.2 and sophomore Ron Pohlonski lopped an amazing fifteen seconds from the old 1650 yard freestyle mark owned by teammate Beau Toll.

The seventh record-smashing performance came from the medley relay foursome of Gaff, Evenson, Cutler and sophomore John Woods. They splashed to a 3:46.6, eclipsing the previous mark of 3:49.3 set by WMU in 1963.

Butterfly specialist Woods gained some ironic satisfaction by finishing fourth in both butterfly events but setting new varsity records both times.

Divers Tony Toporski gave WMU a first in that event and added the final touch to an overwhelming 132-86-85½ margin over nearest competitors Ohio U. and Miami.

topped WMU. The Broncos came closest to victory with Bowling Green, losing by a slim 15-12 margin.

The Mid-American meet at Ohio University saw the Western contingent finish sixth with senior standout Carl Latora winning his second league 130-pound title.

Broncos 10-14 in 1963-64; Newsome "Greatest"

Western's basketball season turned out to be another of those "big years" that collapse. The Broncos were touted as being one of the best squads in years, but a few misfortunes handed coach Don Boven's cagers a mediocre 10-14 record.

In November Western embarked on the most ambitious schedule in the history of the school. Many described the slate as being "suicide."

The first six games were against some highly rated teams around the nation. Northwestern, Michigan State, Marquette, Loyola, Michigan and Notre Dame gave the Broncos a stiff introduction into the 1963-64 season.

A clash in McGaw Hall at Evanston against the Northwestern Wildcats opened the campaign for the Western cagers. It was a heart thumper as the 'Cats Richie Falk swished a thirty foot jumper with no time left on the clock to cop an 80-78 squeaker for his teammates.

Tight games seemed to be the thing for five out of six of the early season contests. Western took to the hardwood at Michigan States Jennison Fieldhouse with victory in mind next. Games can't end much closer. The Spartans edged by Western 101-100 and were happy to have the win. Manny Newsome put a scare into the Big Ten team, burning the nets with 45 points.

Victory finally came to the Broncos against the Marquette Warriors in the following game Bill Street poured in 39 points to lead Western to a tight 84-83 win over Eddie Hickey's squad.

Northwestern's hot shooting guard Richie Falk chases Manny Newsome as the little man drives for a baseline score. Manny scored 25 points, Falk 32, in a contest the Broncos lost at the buzzer, 80-78, on a long jump shot by Mr. Falk.

Left: 6-5 sophomore Bill Coole stretches for rebound with Loyola's Tom Markey. Broncos lost to 1963 national champions, 105-102, in Read Field House thriller.

Above: Guard Dave Anderson, a 14.6 ppg. scorer in '63-64, flashes by Marshall's Jody Sword in last game of season.

Loyola's NCAA champs invaded Read Fieldhouse and left with a well earned 105-102 win over the Broncos. With seconds to go Western threatened, butthere are only forty minutes of play. Manny Newsome set a fieldhouse record scoring 44-points against George Ireland's Ramblers.

At Ann Arbor Western ran into their toughest foe, Michigan's Wolverines, dropping a 104-81 decision.

Coach Johnny Jordan's faltering Notre Dame Irish fell to the Broncos 92-89 in Read Fieldhouse, Western's second win of the campaign.

During the Christmas break Boven's cagers again played in the Motor City Tourney at Detroit, but dropped two tilts to Penn State and Holy Cross.

Late in the season Western met the Creighton Bluejays in the Chicago Stadium, but fell 88-72, the victim of too much height and talent.

In the Mid-American Conference Western broke even with a 6-6 mark good for fourth place.

The '63-'64 season also ended an era in Bronco basketball. Manny Newsome, "The Little Guy" ended the schools greatest cage career. He broke every scoring mark in the WMU books and finished his senior year as the nation's third leading scorer among major colleges with a 32.65 average. Thus, with Newsome's brilliant career ending, so did another "if only....." season.

6'5" pivot, Willie Thomas, chooses an alley behind Bowling Green's Tom Baker and Leroy Haywood in 95-85 win here, January 14.

Western's basketball season had been touted as being the best in years, but when it was over "if's" were all that remained for discussion.

Manny Newsome, affectionately known as "The Little Guy" by Bronco fans, ended a career that had not been equaled before in the history of Western basketball. He set every scoring record in his three varsity seasons and finished his senior year as the nation's third leading scorer.

Coach Don Boven's Broncos faced the most ambitious schedule of any Western team. The first five games were tabbed as "suicide" by many. Northwestern, Michigan State, Marquette, Loyola.

Newsome goes up for an easy basket against Northern Illinois. The Broncos mauled the Huskies 106-78.

Sophomore Center John Scholtens, started slowly in the 1963-'64 campaign, but became a good scorer and rebounder in the latter half of the season.

Ajac Triplett leaps between Northwestern's Rick Lopassa and Jim Pitts in a battle for the ball, which Lopassa seems to have won.

Loyola's Big Four, Ron Miller, Johnny Egan, Les Hunter and Vic Rouse have Manny Newsome temporarily surrounded, but "Noose" soon was by himself with a basket.

Tenth Straight Track Title for Dales' Thinclads

TRACK TEAM—Front row: Harvey Smits, Cal Williams, Steve Kaiser, Jerry Bashaw, Neil Browne, Mike Gallagher, Joe Falls, Wiley Boulding, Martin Hammerstein, Gene McBride, Dick Greene. Second row: George Dales, Coach, Ralph Hathaway, Manager, Ted Strand, Phil Williams, Martin Crane, Charles Wirschem, Floyd Cook, Ted Mosser, Jim McNutt, Bruce Burstson, Jim Schoolenberg, John Fisher, Jim Vogler, John Ripmaster, Manager, Bob Parks, Assistant Coach. Back row: Doug Hindlay, Jack Wright, Jon Pryor, Mike Oatley, Elliot Uzelac, Paul Rakow, Dave Underly, Ray Williams, Mickey Turcheck, Dennis Holland.

Outdoors, Coach George Dales' trackmen beat Central State and Findlay in a triangular and Miami(O.) in a dual meet while losing to Southern Illinois with several key performers out of action. WMU also dominated the Ohio U., the Ohio State, the Michigan, the University of Chicago Relays, and the Michigan Federation Championships while also showing well at the famous Drake Relays.

The Broncos topped a brilliant outdoor season by swamping their Mid-American colleagues in the annual conference championships in Waldo Stadium. Western placed in all but three of fifteen events to total 104 points to Ohio's 64 and Miami's 34.

Everyone was ready to contribute peak efforts and Western slammed the 440 yard hurdles (Jim McNutt, Floyd Cook, Jim Vogler), the shot put (Ted Mosser, Mike Oatley, Elliot Uzelac), and the three-mile run (Mike Gallagher, Neil Browne, Bruce Burstson). McNutt took the 120 yard high hurdles to be the meet's only double winner and Dick Greene (mile), Dennis Holland (broad jump), and Mickey Turcheck and Dave Underly (pole vault) also came through with first place showings.

New league marks were set by McNutt (440 yard intermediate hurdles), Browne and Gallagher (three mile), Holland (broad jump) and Turcheck and Underly in the pole vault.

In the final meet of the season the Broncos were nipped by host Notre Dame for the Central Collegiate crown by the narrow margin of $1\frac{1}{2}$ points, decided in the last event, the mile relay.

Two great distance men, Bruce Burston and Loyola's remarkable Tom O'Hara, greet one another before the Michigan Championships which Western hosted last June. A cross-country All-American in 1962, Aussie Burston will not soon forget his duels with O'Hara, the most spectacular indoor performer of 1963-64.

Pistol raised, the starter eyes four runners seconds before the beginning of a sprint race in a Read Field House indoor meet.

Western's fine broad jumper, Dennis Holland, raises a wake of dirt at the end of a near 26 foot jump on which he barely fouled. The Detroit Redford product holds the current varsity broad jump record of 25 feet, two and one-half inches.

In a triumphant hand-clasping finish, Mike Gallagher and Neil Browne approach the tape as co-winners of the Mid-American three mile run last spring. The Broncos amassed 104 points in the MAC meet to take the conference track title for the sixth straight year.

Hefty shotputter Elliot Uzelac gives the final burst of effort as he releases the 16 pound ball during the record-setting WMU relays March 28, 1964. Right: Jackson high-jumper Alonzo Littlejohn completed three years of stellar performances for the Broncos and held varsity, Waldo Stadium and Mid-American records.

Sophomores Jim Carter and Gary Myers are one-two around the curve in the WMU Relays mile run March 28, 1964.

Bronco Netters Won Tenth Straight Mid-American Title

When the Mid-American tennis championships rolled around in the spring of 1963, Western's own squad had virtually been through the mill. The Broncos won only five of fourteen matches, but were losing to the likes of Big Ten champ Northwestern, Indiana, Southern Illinois, and Michigan.

Losing to heady tennis schools can never hurt you unless you should beat them and Coach Hap Sorenson was hardly looking for a undefeated season. WMU won the three matches it played with MAC teams and the netters headed for the league showdown on the Davis Street courts with a good chance at a tenth straight crown, but not an overwhelming one.

Drippy weather meant much of the action had to take place in one day, the last, and that meant tennis from dawn to dusk, practically. But Sorenson's players were ready and nosed out

Kent State by a point and Toledo by two.

Western's best were sophomores Bob Gill and Mike Goodrich. Norton Thomas, Burton Wiersema, Jack Barkenbus and Jim Teal also performed credibly.

Sorenson's freshmen netters won all four of their matches with Grand Rapids JC, Battle Creek CC and two with Goshen (Ind). College, to set the veteran coach's 12 year record with his frosh at 47-5.

Net Coach Hap Sorenson offers instruction to four 1963 team members, Glenn Sykes, Jack Barkenbus, Bob Gill and Jim Teal.

FROSH TENNIS TEAM—Bill Dimmer, Jim Cobb, Fred Wisser, Stuart Garthe, Hap Sorenson, Coach, Mike Austrins, Jim Campbell, Wendell Cristoff, Bill Hoard.

Golfers Finish Fourth in 1963

VARSITY GOLF TEAM—Harry Barrett, Tom Cassell, Jan Blick, Ron Sugg, Tom Milham, Peter Landt, Bill Barclay, Charles Mitchell.

Coach Dick Radklovits golf squad won only three of fifteen matches in 1963, working with almost nothing but sophomores against tough non-league foes like Kentucky and Louisville and rugged Mid-Am opponents Ohio, Bowling Green and Toledo.

Indeed, no one has been able to match rugged Ohio U. (seven titles since 1955), but Bronco linksmen have never finished below fifth and have been as high as second four times in the last decade.

The golfers were fourth in the 1963 Mid-American tournament held over the long Elks Country Club course in Kalamazoo. Ohio was the winner and got a terrific 66 from Nick Carl.

Sophomores Jan Blick, Tom Milham, and Harry Barrett were letterwinners as was Peter Landt and seniors Bill Barclay, Charles Mitchell, Tom Cassell and Ron Sugg.

Baseball Team Extends MAC Victory String to 32; Take Sixth NCAA District Title

How many times in Charley-Maher's three decade coaching career has he had teams no one was quite sure about before the season, but blazed down a path of glory once the bell rang? A number, surely, and none was so completely dressed in such a cloak as the 1963 team.

There was no holdover pitcher who had won more than two games in 1962 and Maher faced the unavoidable prospect of pushing four players into regular spots who had seen no previous varsity service.

Coach Maher was accordingly anti-optimistic before the Broncos opened April 3 against Kent State at Haymes Field.

But the sophomores and new players were good ones and the pitching proved to be excellent—and Maher had himself a real team.

The Broncos won 18 of their first 19 games and rushed through all 12 Mid-American contests without a defeat. They crushed Kent State 22-1, ran over Ohio 10-5, beat Marshall 16-1 and 11-4, stopped Bowling Green 13-6 and 11-0, and pounded Toledo 12-4 and 4-0.

SOME OF THE STARS

John Sluka

Sophomore second-baseman John Sluka hit .312 as Maher's leadoff man in 1963. The South Haven product also became a fluid, dependable fielder.

Fred Decker

Compact Fred Decker jumped into centerfield when letterman Mike Gatza broke a shoulder a week before the season. Fred only led the MAC in hitting (.488) and was a darling of Bronco fans all spring.

Fred Michalski

Shortstop Fred Michalski was a hitter's hitter in 1963, leading the squad in every hitting category including 20 extra base hits, a terrific figure for a college season. His .331 average, 35 RBI's and six home runs singled Michalski out as the finest hitter on a heavy-hitting team.

Danny Predovic

Danny Predovic, a wonderful gloveman and .321 hitter in 1963, checks swing against Kent State. Third baseman Predovic helped Western to a 22-1 landslide on this day.

6-5 lefthander Lee Salo used mostly his elbow and kneecap delivery to shape an excellent 7-1 record and 1.35 ERA in 69.6 innings of pitching. Salo hurled only 14.6 innings in 1962, but had four shutouts last spring and became a very effective pitcher.

Only Miami got close to this team, losing a 3-2 game here.

The conference success marked the third straight season in which Western went undefeated in MAC play, extending the string of league victories to 32 and meant WMU's ninth Mid-American baseball title in eleven years.

The Broncos closed the perfect league season with a double-header sweep of visiting Miami May 18 to formally qualify WMU for a ninth trip to the NCAA tournament.

First-baseman Dave Reeves spends a reflective moment in the dugout before a Haynes Field contest. The Kalamazoo sophomore performed credibly all season and the first base spot, vacated by veterans at the beginning of the season, was not a weak one.

Western won 21 of 24 in regular season play, losing to Ohio State once and Michigan twice. Nine WM wins were over non-league foes, two versus MSU, three over Ball State, two against Ohio State and two came at the expense of Notre Dame, another of the 1963 district four entrants.

At Champaign-Urbana, Ill., Broncos stopped Notre Dame a third straight time, 2-1, as lefthander Gary Wallman stopped the Irish on five hits.

Then tall Lee Salo shutout Big Ten champ Illinois, 1-0, and after the Illini turned the tables in an 8-0 drubbing, Western turned loose Dave Bitante's strong right arm and Illinois fell in the title contest, 7-0.

All three games were played in one day.

The sixth journey to the "College World Series," was rather a disaster for Maher's crew, but the lack of success at Omaha was understandable—the Broncos had played an awful lot of demanding baseball in the previous two weeks.

Western's other fine lefthander Gary Wallman pitched more innings than anyone else, 79, and finished the most games, seven. He had the second best ERA, 1.71, and led the staff in strikeouts with 66. Among the seven triumphs, Wallman beat tough Ohio State and tougher Notre Dame (twice) and became New York Yankee property after the Broncos' quick NCAA bow-out.

Large rightfielder Dave Kwiatkowski frightened opposing pitchers even when he failed to get wood on the ball. The 6-4, 210 pound outfielder hit .282 with 17 extra base hits and drew 26 walks, most on the team. He signed a professional contract with Pittsburg after the NCAA World Series.

Florida State did Western in once, 5-2, and then Penn State finished off the Kalamazooans in a 3-0 whitewash job.

Defensive lapses and a dearth of breaks ruined Western's chances. It was tied with Florida State through eight innings, but a pair of errors and a hit undermined a wonderful pitching performance by Gary Wallman, a hurler who finished with a 1.71 ERA for 79 innings and now is New York Yankee property.

The squad ended with a very good 24-6 record, but the outstanding item about this team was belted the horsehide.

Twenty-two home runs, nine hits per game, seven runs per game, and a .284 team batting mark—all figures which attested to the fact that this was one of the hittingest teams in Western baseball history.

Lee Salo and Gary Wallman were the pitching stoppers and Dave Bitante, Bruce Buys, and Mike Boedy were fine hurlers for Maher also.

Intramural Program Came of Age in 1963-64

The University's intramural program saw an unprecedented jump in both participation and overall quality. More students than ever before took part in each of the individual and team sports offered by WMU's intramural setup.

In football participation almost doubled, from 396 in 1962 to 727 in 1963 and the number of teams jumped from 24 to 44. 816 men played basketball, an increase of over 200 and there were 68 teams, 18 more than in 1962-63.

Nineteen men took a crack at cross-country in the annual Turkey Trot and all but one finished the two-mile run.

Besides these sports, the IM program offers swimming, table tennis, soccer, golf, softball, tennis, badminton, gymnastics, paddleball, bowling, billiards, and track and field.

In the biggest team sports, the independent Ogres, led by a 210-pound line and a quick backfield, won the All-Campus football trophy. They topped fraternity loop champ, Theta Xi, and the dormitory league victors, the Henry Bombers.

Kappa Alpha Psi was the All-Campus cage champion, beating the independent champs Ogres and dormitory leader Hoejke. All three squads were undefeated in regular season play.

98 students bowled, both independently and with the 15 teams. Lou Gard won the individual title by averaging a terrific 214.

40 men played volley ball and 31 went for handball competition.

Intramural Director Art Jeverter got the program moving in high gear in 1963-64 and looks forward to the excellent new facilities which will soon be ready to better handle this booming program.

Nineteen runners light out after that turkey in annual intramural Turkey Trot at Gateway Golf Course. That's Intermural Director Art Jever with the clipboard, the man who is largely responsible for Western's highly successful IM program.

Former baseball standout Al Drews was the champion in handball singles. Drews defeated Howard Lee 21-3 and 21-8 to grab the trophy. He also teamed with Chuck Wirschem to win the doubles competition.

Senior Jim Wilcox won the IM free throw shooting contest by sinking 86 of 100 tries.

The men of the "W" Club strive to promote sportsmanship and fair play in University athletics. They are concerned with the improvement of athletics standards and the promotion of scholarship among athletes. Membership is for men from all varsity sports who have been awarded the official "W" monogram as a result of their participation.

An active organization on campus, the "W" Club engages in the Freshman Carnival, Homecoming festivities, the Alumni Newsletter, intramural athletics, and the "W" Club-Faculty Basketball Game.

Herbert W. (Buck) Read received the first honorary membership into "W" Club, presented by John Ripmaster and Robert Culp.

To sharpen the awareness of views in the World, the senior class invited Ross Barnett, Governor of Alabama, to speak on campus.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Lee Kuczmanski, Vice-President

Justine Taylor, Secretary

John E. Ripmaster, Treasurer

Tom Rushcamp, President

This year's Senior Class officers have been especially influential in campus affairs and have helped to increase the reputation of the Senior Class. Following their participation in the Freshman Orientation the Senior Class Council sponsored the appearance of Alabama's Governor Ross Barnett. Soon after this event they participated in the Conscience of America Series on Campus which arranged the appearance of Martin Luther King. Martin Luther King was included in the calendar of events along with Governor Ross Barnett to give the students of Western an insight into opposing sides of the segregation problem so prevalent in the United States at this time. Graduation is the climactic point in the duties of the Senior Class Office slate. The graduation exercise held June 6, 1964 in Waldo Stadium marks the sixtieth June graduating class since the establishment of Western.

CONTINUOUS SECURITY AND SERVICE SINCE 1863 — University Office — W. Michigan Avenue at Knollwood St.

We'd like to say that we built our new University Office because we're nice—we wanted to save you a trip downtown. The truth is, we built it for cross, commercial reasons—WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS! Come in and let us tell you what we can do for you.

P.S. Ask for one of our gold-plated checkbooks. Or if you're one of the diffident ones, we have several others to choose from. You'll also like our complete monthly statements to checking account customers, our free personalized checks, and our simple 10c a check no-minimum-balance fee arrangement.
